

CYPRUS INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE
FOR THE ENVIRONMENT AND PUBLIC HEALTH
IN ASSOCIATION WITH
HARVARD SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Announcement of the Bodossaki Foundation Scholarship Award in Environmental Health Studies at the Cyprus International Institute for the Environment and Public Health

The Cyprus International Institute for the Environment and Public Health (CII) is pleased to announce the Bodossaki Foundation Scholarship Award in Environmental Health Studies at the Cyprus International Institute for the Environment and Public Health for students of Greek descent.

- The Program accepts applications for outstanding students each year from Greece to enroll in the Program;
- Candidates from various disciplines are encouraged to apply including medicine, engineering, public health, as well as physical and biological sciences;
- The Program trains students to assume key academic and research positions in environmental health throughout the Eastern Mediterranean region;
- Full tuition scholarships are offered to highly-qualified candidates.

For more information, please contact:

Cyprus International Institute for the Environment and Public Health
In association with the Harvard School of Public Health
+357-2244 9292
Email: cii@cyprusinstitute.org
www.hsph.harvard.edu/cyprus