SUSTAINABILITY NEWS AND EVENTS AT HLC AND BEYOND

ISSUE 40, MARCH/APRIL 2016

A special note from our friends in HR (who are great supporters of EcoOpportunity), be sure to check out their latest offerings in career development and training by visiting <http://hsph.me/112>

DID YOU KNOW?

The Annual Longwood Chemical Clean-Out Event is just around the corner. Unwanted chemicals will be collected and removed directly from your lab. The deadline to pre-register is Friday April 15th 2016. For more information: Contact Longwood EH&S directly at 2-1720 or lab\_safety@harvard.edu

Take the Stairs 2016!

Your annual time to step-up or step-back is here and bigger than ever! We've expanded across all of Longwood so HMS and HSDM, that means you too!

Find a group of friends and colleagues (3-5), register ASAP, and conquer Meru, a 6,660 meter peak in the Indian Himalayas. All participants get a prize and teams that reach the peak are entered into a drawing for larger prizes. We will be screening the award winning documentary, Meru, on April 6th as part of the Take the Stairs campaign!

For registration and rules, please visit: <http://hsph.me/stairs>

What does the future of sustainability and human health look like?

This spring, the Center for Health and the Global Environment will be hosting a Directors Lecture Series showcasing how its latest research is re-envisioning health and sustainability. This series will offer deep insight into many of the research programs and initiatives at the Center which are tackling some of the biggest sustainability challenges of the 21st century. Please visit <http://chgeharvard.org/get-involved> and sign up for the CHGE newsletter to stay informed.

The following lectures will each be held in the FXB lecture rooms from 12:30-1:30pm at that Harvard School of Public Health. Lunch will be provided.

March 31 Sitting in the Driver's Seat: Business and Global Well-Being

April 7 Health and Climate Benefits of Renewable Energy, Energy Efficiency, and Carbon Mitigation

April 12 The Center for Health and the Global Environment: Re-Envisioning Health and Sustainability
Come join fellow staff, students, and faculty in the conversation!
