* This Health and Human Rights special issue on climate justice and the right to health was co-edited by Jay Lemery, MD, president of the Wilderness Medical Society (WMS). WMS is a non-profit organization for health care providers dedicated to promoting best practice care in austere or remote environments. As the right to health depends on a stable and safe environment, WMS is pleased to support this special issue. Information for health care providers to advance awareness of the effects of climate change on human health is available at wms.org.

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

Health and Human Rights began publication in 1994 under the editorship of Jonathan Mann, who was succeeded in 1997 by Sofia Gruskin. Paul Farmer, co-founder of Partners In Health, assumed the editorship in 2007. Health and Human Rights is an open access online publication and a leading forum of debate on global health and rights concerns. The journal maintains a tradition of critical scholarship and also provides an inclusive forum for action-oriented dialogue among human rights practitioners, with peer-reviewed articles focusing rigorous scholarly analysis on the conceptual foundations and challenges of rights discourse and action in relation to health.

Health and Human Rights is listed in PubMed, the database of the National Library of Medicine.

PUBLICATION POLICY

Health and Human Rights welcomes unsolicited manuscripts on an ongoing basis. Submissions should not exceed 7000 words, while submissions to the Perspectives section should not exceed 2000 words. Book reviews and Letters to the Editor are also welcome. More information on submissions is available at <http://www.hhrjournal.org/submissions.php>.

Please submit manuscripts through the website or by email to hhrjournal@hsph.harvard.edu. Author guidelines are available on the Health and Human Rights website (<http://www.hhrjournal.org>). Views expressed in the journal are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the publisher, editors, editorial board members, or other members.

COPYRIGHT POLICY

Health and Human Rights applies the Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial 3.0 Unported License to all articles, with the philosophy that there should be no financial barriers to access information. The Attribution-Noncommercial license (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/3.0/>) lets people freely copy, distribute, remix, and build upon contributors' work, provided it is not used to make a profit and the original authors and Health and Human Rights are appropriately acknowledged.
