

If you are still having problems viewing this message, please click here for additional help.

Kiosk

April 14, 2016

Event Highlights

Drug Trials: Challenges for Alzheimer's and Other Urgent Needs

Live webcast

April 15

Noon-1:00 PM

Innovative Sexual Assault Policies and Prevention on College Campuses, Hospitals, and in Communities

April 21

12:30-1:30 PM

Kresge 200

How the body ages and how to keep it young

April 19

6:00-7:30 PM

Joseph B. Martin Conference Center

Event calendar >

Featured podcast: How pollution is making Detroit sick

In our latest episode, we take you to a city where asthma is considered normal, plus how renewable energy can save lives. Listen on Soundcloud, subscribe through iTunes, or stream it via

School opens center in India

The center is the School's first outpost in South Asia, and will help broaden and coordinate efforts to improve health in India and around the world.

Theresa Betancourt, Dyann Wirth honored at Alice Hamilton lecture

The annual event recognizes the impact in public health and the future promise of a woman faculty member.

Students, researchers share findings at annual poster day

Twenty-one students and 26 postdocs and research associates shared their research results with awards given to the best posters.

Around the School

Watch: Senator Elizabeth Warren on 'fighting for change'

During a Q&A with Dean Designate Michelle Williams, Senator Elizabeth Warren (MA) told students to "get out there and change the world."

Stitcher.

In the news

Detection method makes close monitoring of HDL kinetics possible

Q&A with Howard Koh featured in STAT

Researchers optimistic about malaria vaccine progress

At a Forum hosted by Harvard's Defeating Malaria: From the Genes to the Globe initiative, researchers highlighted the promise and limitations of RTS,S, the first malaria vaccine candidate to win regulatory approval.

Adolescents face numerous health threats

The third annual State of Global Health symposium highlighted the health threats faced by children in developing countries—from smoking to the ravages of war.

Feminine hygiene product drive brings in thousands of donations

The Harvard Chan community donated 7,183 tampons and pads which will be donated to Rosie's Place, a homeless shelter for women in Boston.

Register for a free public health nanocourse

The Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health Postdoctoral Association will be offering its first Nanocourse of 2016: Introduction to Decision Analysis and Cost-Effectiveness Analysis for Public Health and Clinical Decision Making. The course is free and is open to everyone.

Sarah K. Wood Award nominations due by April 15

The Sarah K. Wood Award for Outstanding Staff Performance recognizes a staff member who demonstrates the qualities of dedication, competence, positive attitude, initiative, and ability to mentor, encourage, and inspire others, in addition to a demonstrated commitment to the School and its mission. All nominations must be submitted by April 15.

You're receiving this email because you are a staff member or academic appointee.

Unsubscribe

Quick links:

Kiosk issue archive | School home page

Latest news coverage | Event calendar

Download our app for iPhone and Android | Read Harvard Public Health on e-reader

Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health | 90 Smith Street | Boston, MA 02120

Contact us

