

If you are still having problems viewing this message, please click here for additional help.

Kiosk

Watch: You are welcome here

Students, faculty, and staff recently gathered to affirm our School's values and to send a message to students and scholars from around the world.

'Dreamers' policy may have reduced depression

The Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program appears to have reduced depression among eligible undocumented immigrants, often referred to as the "Dreamers."

Register today: Organizing for Health

On Tuesday, April 4, Dr. Marshall Ganz from Harvard Kennedy School will present on Organizing for Health: People, Power and Change. The event will run from 6:00-7:30 PM at the Joseph B. Martin Center.

State of Global Health Symposium

The Department of Global Health and Population will host its 4th

March 16, 2017

Event Highlights

Reddit AMA: Alzheimer's Disease

Albert Hofman

March 16

11:30 AM-1:30 PM

The Right to Health: Sri Lankan Migrant Workers

March 21

12:30-1:30 PM

FXB 710

Harvard Surgical HSR Speaker Series: The past, present & future of Pediatric NSQIP

March 21

5:15-6:00 PM

One Brigham Circle, 4th floor,
Ledge Room 4-002B

Equity and Social Justice Series: Violence and Its Impact on Our Community

March 22

4:00-6:30 PM

Building C, Cannon Room,
Harvard Medical School

Event calendar >

Listen: Climate change and mental health

In part of 4 of our podcast series on climate change we explore annual State of Global Health Symposium on Wednesday, March 22, from 2:00-5:00 PM at the Joseph B. Martin Center. The symposium, Urban Evolution: Optimizing Women's Health in the World's Cities, will be followed by a reception and student poster session. Register here and learn more about other events being held during Global Health Week.

how environmental changes may have wide-ranging effects on mental health around the world.

Around the School

School marks International Women's Day

On March 8 the Harvard Chan School community held events to mark International Women's Day. After a lunchtime discussion, students, faculty, and staff gathered in the Kresge courtyard to sing "Bread and Roses" in honor of the 1912 women's strike in Lawrence, Mass.

Reproductive health clinic in Mexico named for Ana Langer

A new reproductive health clinic in Mexico City has been named for Ana Langer in recognition of her work in Mexico and Latin America to boost women's sexual and reproductive health and rights and to improve the prevention and care of maternal health complications among both teens and women.

Take the Stairs 2017

If you haven't done so yet, register a team for the annual Take the Stairs challenge, which encourages participants to increase their daily movement to boost health. This year the event is open to the entire University. You can register as a team or individually to try to reach the goal of 23,492 feet. Teams that reach the goal are entered into prize raffles and prizes are given based on creative team names.

In the news

Stopping the cycle of domestic violence

Climate change may reverse gains in child survival

Expensive hospital care doesn't buy better health

How the GOP health-care plan could gut the Medicaid expansion

Will the American Health Care Act improve on Obamacare?

Can being busy or tired affect how doctors treat patients?

You're receiving this email because you are a staff member or academic appointee.

Unsubscribe

Quick links:

Latest news coverage | Event calendar | Kiosk issue archive | School home page

Download our app for iPhone and Android | Read Harvard Public Health magazine

Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health | 90 Smith Street | Boston, MA 02120

Contact us