

Hand-drawn decorative border at the top consisting of a series of connected blue 'N' shapes, flanked by red ribbon-like flourishes on both ends.

AIDS

Niki Farahani

AIDS Walk

My family and I decided to go to an AIDS Walk. It was Sun. June 1. 2008. It started at 10:00 a.m.

8 We joined my dad's P friends at MIT Bridge. My dad's friend, Martha organized a group from Harvard. She ⌘ gave us special ⌘

T-shirts. Then we started the walk.
After a while, a million more people came for the walk (I think!). ⌘ ⌘ ⌘ ⌘

I

Saw Many

People. Some of them were old and some were young,
There were a lot of babies.

There were many

Many Many Cute doggies!!

They were giving out many free snacks, like ice-cream, bananas, and water. I bought a popsicle and my brother bought a soft pritzel

(that I ate because it was Delicious!!!

We walked for an hour. Then

My legs started to hurt.

Me and my mom decided to 7 head home. But my dad and brother decided to go on. Even though my legs hurt, I am glad

☪ That I walked ☪

to help people with AIDS.

The End!!! ☪ ☪ ☪ ☪ ☪ ☪

Meet the Author

I am 8

years old.

My dad is Mansoor! :)

