NIH Funding Announcements – New This Week

New RFA's:

Title	Announcement Number	Issuing Organization	Release Date	Opening Date (SF424 Only)	Expiration Date	Activity Code(s)
NIDDK Physician Scientist Diversity Mentoring Award (K05)	RFA-DK-14-005	NIDDK	07-29-2014	10-24-2014	11-25-2014	K05
Detect, Define and Measure the Progression of Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy (U01)	RFA-NS-14-012	NINDS	07-29-2014	09-30-2014	11-01-2014	U01
Hazardous Materials Worker Health and Safety Training (U45)	RFA-ES-14-008	NIEHS	07-28-2014	10-06-2014	11-07-2014	U45
Paul B. Beeson Clinical Scientist Development Award in Aging (K08)	RFA-AG-15-016	NIA	07-25-2014	10-07-2014	11-08-2014	К08
Paul B. Beeson Patient-Oriented Research Career Development Award in Aging (K23)	RFA-AG-15-017	NIA	07-25-2014	10-07-2014	11-08-2014	K23
NIH Transformative Research Awards (R01)	RFA-RM-14-003	Roadmap	07-24-2014	09-10-2014	10-11-2014	R01
Bioreactors for Reparative Medicine - SBIR Direct Phase II (R44)	RFA-HL-15-017	NHLBI	07-24-2014	09-14-2015	10-15-2016	R44
Bioreactors for Reparative Medicine (R41/R42)	RFA-HL-15-004	NHLBI	07-24-2014	09-10-2014	10-15-2016	R41 R42
Bioreactors for Reparative Medicine (R43/R44)	RFA-HL-15-008	NHLBI	07-24-2014	09-10-2014	10-15-2016	R43 R44
Mucosal Environment and HIV Prevention (MEHP II) (R01)	RFA-AI-14-036	NIAID	07-22-2014	10-21-2014	11-22-2014	R01

Interventions for Youth who Misuse/Abuse Prescription Stimulant Medications in High School and/or College-Attending Youth (U01)	RFA-DA-15-010	NIDA	07-22-2014	10-13-2014	11-14-2014	U01
National Research Project to Assess State Agricultural Laws, Regulations, and Resources Related to Produce Safety (U01)	RFA-FD-14-085	FDA	07-22-2014	07-25-2014	08-26-2014	U18
*Limited Submission Opportunity – Please notify ORSD via orsd@hsph.harvard.edu if you plan to submit so that an internal coordination process can be arranged.
Advanced Clinical Trials to test Artificial Pancreas Device Systems in Type 1 Diabetes (UC4)	RFA-DK-14-024	NIDDK	07-22-2014	03-15-2015	04-16-2015	UC4

Internal Funding Opportunities

*New -The Program on the Global Demography of Aging at Harvard University – Call for Pilots

The Program on the Global Demography of Aging at Harvard University funds pilot project grants in the area of the Economics and Demography of Aging. The aim is to provide assistance to Harvard researchers in undertaking preliminary research that may subsequently lead to a larger research project. The PGDA is a center for research on the Economics and Demography of Aging funded by the by the National Institute of Aging. More information on the PGDA is available at https://www.hsph.harvard.edu/pgda/.

Pilot projects are solicited in the areas of:

- 1. Measurement of the global patterns of disease, mortality, and morbidity in aging populations
- 2. Social determinants of population health and aging
- 3. Economics of health care provision for the elderly
- 4. Macroeconomic consequences of population aging
- 5. Migration and Aging
- 6. Aging and HIV/AIDS

Applications that involve collaboration with our international partners in the International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS), Mumbai, India, the INDEPTH Network Secretariat, Accra, Ghana, the Africa Center for Health and Population Studies, KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa, MRC/Wits Rural Public Health and Heath Transitions Research Unit, Agincourt, South Africa, Ifakara Health Institute, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, and the Navrongo Health Research Center, Navrongo, Ghana, or that complement the ongoing Longitudinal Study of Aging in India (LASI) and the Health and Aging in Africa Longitudinal Study in INDEPTH communities (HAALSI) are particularly welcomed.

The pilot should be designed so as to produce results that will support a future application for research funding to the NIH or other bodies. The pilot projects are designed to support new researchers in aging (without previous R01 grants or equivalent) and more experienced researchers who wish to investigate new areas of research.

Researchers who are considering applying are encouraged to discuss their proposed application with David Bloom or David Canning to ensure that the proposal falls into areas of interest of PGDA.

Eligibility

We welcome applications from all parts of Harvard University. Principal Investigators of pilot projects must be Harvard University faculty members or appointed on the research scientist track. Graduate students, visitors, and postdoctoral fellows, may not apply directly for a pilot project but a faculty member or researcher may include salary support for a graduate student or postdoctoral fellow in their application.

Grants

Pilot project grants will usually be for up to $50,000. Smaller grants, and larger grants of up to $75,000, will be considered but the applicant should recognize that larger funding requests will need to be particularly compelling. Applicants requiring a higher level of funding should consider applying directly to the NIH for a R03 small grant. Applications should be for research periods of one year with a start date on or before January 1, 2015.

There is no limit on the number of applications submitted. Grants may be used to support: faculty salaries (for example, summer salary support); travel, research assistance, acquisition of research materials (including electronic databases); to facilitate communication with colleagues and institutions in other countries; and for other appropriate research purposes as allowed by the NIH (N.B. stipend and tuition not allowed). Grants may be used to acquire computer software and databases, but not for hardware purchases.

PGDA collaborates with the Research and Computing Core at the Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies. Principal investigators wishing to have specific computing, data archiving or research assistance as a part of their pilot should contact Jocelyn Finlay, Director of Research and Computing Core at jfinlay@hsph.harvard.edu.

Award Conditions

Researchers awarded pilots will either be or become affiliates of the PGDA. These awards will be made from federal funds and must be administered in accordance with HSPH-NIH grant policies. Funded projects will require approval for research on human subjects from Harvard School of Public Health Institutional Review Board. Additionally, these projects will need to be reviewed by all other involved institutions including your local sponsored research office before funds can be disbursed. To help alleviate the burden of multiple IRB reviews, these studies may be eligible for an IRB Authorization Agreement with HSPH. (For more information, please visit the Human Subject Committee website.)

Studies that involve use of data from foreign human subjects/or collaboration with foreign individuals or institutions will also require US State Department Foreign Clearance. PGDA will assist in obtaining IRB and foreign clearance.

Reporting Requirements

Successful principle investigators are required to submit annual progress reports on the project to PGDA. Upon completion of the project, the principle investigator is required to submit a report of the work carried out under the grant. Awardees will also be encouraged to present the results of their work in a seminar and are welcome to submit a paper to PGDA's working paper series. The principle investigator is required to report to PGDA any subsequent grant applications and publications that derive from the pilot project. Publications are subject to the NIH Policy on Enhancing Public Access to Archived Publications Resulting from NIH-Funded Research which ensures the use of NIH funding is acknowledged and the publication is open access.

Applications

We ask that applicants submit the following documents:

- PGDA Cover Sheet (See Downloadable Forms and Instructions)
- Proposal narrative: Proposals should not exceed 3 pages in length (not including references) and should include a description of the research, as well as an explanation of how the pilot would aid progress to a larger research project.
- A CV or NIH biosketch for key personnel
- Budget justification
- Budget (on PHS 398 Form Page 4, use page 5 as well if project period is less than 12 months)

We strongly encourage applicants to consult their local financial administrator or grant manager prior to submission. Local unit budget approval is not required at the proposal stage, but must be in place before the award will be made. Prospective applicants should discuss budget issues with the PGDA Program Coordinator, Donna DiBartolomeo, ddibart@hsph.harvard.edu.

Submission and Review

Complete submissions should be received electronically by

5pm on September 3, 2014

Submissions should be sent by email to:

PGDA Program Coordinator
Donna DiBartolomeo, ddibart@hsph.harvard.edu

Please note that the detailed budget should be in a separate file from the rest of the submission.

PGDA decisions will be communicated to applicants in November 2014.

U.S. Department of State - Franklin Fellows Program

The attached letter provides an overview of the Franklin Fellow Program http://careers.state.gov/work/fellowships/franklin-fellows>.

Researchers may apply on their own, or be nominated by their institution. There is no limit to how many people an institution may nominate, and applications are accepted year round.

This opportunity is for mid/upper level expert professionals who are US citizens and are able to obtain a security clearance as part of the application to the program. Clearance is not needed prior to applying.

This is an unfunded fellowship. Sponsoring institutions, which nominate Fellows, can continue to provide compensation and benefits during the period of the fellowship (one year).

Alliance for the Prudent Use of Antibiotics (APUA) – 2014 Leadership Awards Call for Nominations

The Alliance for the Prudent Use of Antibiotics (APUA) would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge the valuable contributions of leaders who have had a major impact on containing antimicrobial resistance. We invite you, as an esteemed colleague, to participate in this process by nominating a candidate for the 2014 APUA Leadership Award.

This award honors an individual or organization for extraordinary leadership in promoting the prudent use of antibiotics as a means to contain antibiotic resistance. We seek nominees active in the fields of science, medicine, and policy from around the world.

In addition, the APUA Chapter Leadership Award will be presented to a chapter that has exhibited tireless effort and leadership to promote the prudent use of antibiotics in its country and contain antibiotic resistance. Consideration will be given to advances made in basic science, national public health policy, and clinical practice.

Please submit your nomination(s) using this form before August 15, 2014 via email to APUA@tufts.edu

The Chronic Effects of Neurotrauma Consortium (CENC) – Request for Applications

The Chronic Effects of Neurotrauma Consortium (CENC) is seeking applications for collaborations and research studies focused on the impact and sequelae of mTBI/CTE on active duty service members and veterans. Studies will address questions and areas complementary to the Consortium's mission and alignment to specified programmatic needs and funding alignments. Information on the CENC can be found at https://cenc.rti.org. Information on the CENC integrated grant program and the Fall 2014 Request for Applications (RFA) can be found at https://cenc.rti.org/Research-Studies/CENC-Grant-Program.

Questions regarding this opportunity should be directed to the CENC Peer Review Program Chair, Dr. Steven West (slwest2@vcu.edu).

PCORI Offers New Funding Support for Meetings and Events

Do you have ideas for a symposium, workshop, or other event focused on developing and sharing information about patient-centered comparative clinical effectiveness research (CER)? Our Eugene Washington PCORI
Engagement Awards program
today announced a new funding opportunity to support such initiatives. Eligible organizations may begin applying immediately for these awards, ranging from $50,000 to $250,000. This is the latest addition to our Engagement Awards program, which supports a range of projects that encourage involvement by patients, clinicians, and other healthcare stakeholders in the work we do

Art because Breast Cancer Foundation – Seed the Scientist Award 2014

The Art beCAUSE Breast Cancer Foundation is happy to announce its' 9th "Seed the Scientist" grant to benefit a young scientist participating in breast cancer research. This two-year award of $60,000 will be given to a scientist that is accomplished in research relating to breast cancer and the environment and shows significant potential to develop into an outstanding scientist in this area. The Art beCAUSE Breast Cancer Foundation is committed to funding research that is dedicated to finding the environmental causes of breast cancer, and is determined to find highly talented breast cancer researchers to help reach this goal.

I. Program objective:

The incidence of breast cancer has increased significantly since the early 1940's such that 1 in 8 women now can expect to be diagnosed with breast cancer in their lifetime. Approximately 40,000 women in the U.S. will die this year of breast cancer. The inability to account for this increase in breast cancer incidence with known risk factors such as diet and exercise, and the cumulative findings of hundreds of epidemiological studies, suggest that exposure to environmental pollutants contributes to breast cancer. The primary mission of the Art beCAUSE Breast Cancer Foundation is to fund research dedicated to identifying these putative environmental causes of breast cancer. A secondary goal is to provide support to highly talented breast cancer researchers in the early stages of their careers in order to motivate their development into outstanding breast cancer scientists.

II. Award description

The Art beCAUSE Breast Cancer Foundation has developed a "Seed a Scientist" program to supply seed money to support research by those investigating environmental etiologies of breast cancer. A two year award of up to $60,000 (including up to 10% indirect costs) will be made at $30,000 per year. Applicants should be accomplished in research relating to breast cancer and the environment and show significant potential to develop into an outstanding scientist in this area. As detailed below in "Format", the grant should summarize previous work, goals for future research, and how this seed grant could lead to subsequent funding to further research efforts. The total length of the format sections IV E through IV I, including figures, may not exceed 5 pages, excluding references. Awardees will agree to attend the Foundation's annual fund-raising event in Boston, Massachusetts on October 16, 2014 to accept the award and to speak briefly about how the award will help them in their research, and to attend conferences, events, etc. sponsored by the Foundation and which reasonably fit into their schedule. Every six months, Awardees are expected to provide a progress report on the research funded by the Seed the Scientist grant.

Applications are reviewed by a panel of scientists, physicians, and breast cancer research advocates with significant expertise in laboratory- and community-based studies.

Applications are due August 15, 2014. Awards are announced September 19, 2014 For additional information contact: Ellie Anbinder , ellie@artbecause.org

Completed applications should be sent electronically to info@artbecause.org and a copy mailed to:

Nicole Longwell

c/o: Art beCAUSE Breast Cancer Foundation P.O.BOX 3025 Framingham, MA 01705-3025

III. Eligibility

The applicant should have an M.D., Ph.D., and/or MPH degree or must anticipate completing the requirements for one of these degrees within 2 years of receiving an award from Art BeCAUSE. All awardees must be within 10 years of their terminal degree. For junior scientists and pre-doctoral fellows, mentorship from senior investigators is encouraged and, when appropriate, should be indicated by a letter of support from the sponsor/mentor. Candidates for this award must exhibit a commitment to breast cancer research.

PCORI – Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards Program

The Engagement Awards were created to forge opportunities for patients and other stakeholder communities to become more involved in patient-centered research. Each award provides support for up to $250,000 with a project period of no more than two years. In 2014, PCORI will award up to $15 million to support projects in three categories:

- Knowledge Awards
- Training and Development Awards
- Dissemination Awards

Together, the awards will help establish a diverse community of passionate individuals with opportunities to participate in patient-centered research. More information about the Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards.

Letters of Inquiry (LOI) are received on a rolling basis.

PCORI Funding Opportunities

PCORI has three broad funding cycles a year. Starting with May 2013, cycles are designated by the month and year that applications are due. More targeted and special funding opportunities may be available outside of these cycles.

There are some differences in the latest round of PFAs, issued Feb. 5, including the fact that for many of them, Letters of Intent (LOIs) are competitive. This means they'll be reviewed for their responsiveness and fit with program goals and authors will be notified if they're invited to submit a full application. Be sure to check the details of the PFA to which you're applying.

Fulbright Canada Short Notice Health Sciences Funding Opportunity (US$35,000)

Fulbright Canada has a targeted opportunity for scholars in Health who specialise in improving the continuum of care for families that are impacted by addiction, mental health problems, and trauma. Fulbright Canada and the Norlien Foundation have partnered to create and support a program of Distinguished Visiting Research Chairs in Brain Science, and Child and Family Health and Wellness. At one of Alberta's three research intensive universities, the scholar(s) would conduct translational research that would improve Alberta's current approaches to preventing and treating addiction and mental health issues.

Given that this is a new opportunity, that three chairs will be appointed annually, and that the recruitment period for these opportunities was limited, we would strongly encourage all interested applicants to begin the online application immediately. This short notice funding opportunity, valued at US$35,000 for a four month residential exchange, closes on August 1st, 2014. Interested candidates should email Brad Hector, Program Officer for Scholars. Additional Information regarding our awards is below.

To increase the chance of receiving a Fulbright Award, applicants are encouraged to identify their primary and alternate choices on the application. We offer three Fulbright Canada Visiting Research Chairs in Health (award 5488) that may also be of interest to your scholars.
