The Public's Response to H1N1: A Multiethnic Perspective

HSPH TOPLINE

The study was conducted for the Harvard School of Public Health via telephone by SSRS/ICR, an independent research company. Interviews were conducted from March 17 – April 11, 2010 among a national representative sample of 2355 respondents age 18 and older. Of those, a total of 1123 are White-Non Hispanic, a total of 330 are Black-Non-Hispanic, a total of 317 are Hispanic (excluding AI/AN), a total of 262 are American Indian/Alaskan Native, and a total of 268 are Asian. The margin of error for total respondents is +/-2.87% at the 95% confidence level.

Ethnicity	Margin of Error
White Non-Hispanic	+/-3.16%
Black Non-Hispanic	+/-7.47%
Hispanic	+/-7.47%
American Indian/Alaskan Native	+/-8.70%
Asian	+/-7.80%

I. Concern

3. Thinking about the time since the beginning of the H1N1 outbreak in April 2009, have you at any point been concerned that you or someone in your immediate family would get sick from H1N1, or haven't you been concerned about that at any point?

	Yes	No	Don't know	Refused
4/11/10 Total	51	49	*	*
Whites	51	49	*	*
Blacks	49	49	2	--
Hispanics	53	47	--	--
AI/AN	45	55	--	--
Asian	52	47	1	--

(Asked of total concerned about someone in family getting sick from H1N1; n = 1224; Whites = 580; Blacks = 168; Hispanics = 172; AI/AN = 132; Asian = 149)

4. How concerned were you? Were you very concerned, somewhat concerned, or not very concerned?

III. Behaviors

8. I am going to read a list of things that some people may have done in response to H1N1. First let's think about some things you or your family members may have done in their daily routine at home or at work. Since the beginning of the H1N1 outbreak in April 2009, at any point, have you or has anyone in your immediate family done any of the following in response to H1N1? How about (INSERT ITEM)?

- a. Washed your hands more frequently
